Cautionary Note:

Going “Green” may make you feel good, but we suggest you check out the source of the waters being served in establishments before you drink the water, whether it be direct filtered municipal tap water (in a bottle) or so called filtering units utilizing tap water disguised as premium waters offered at no charge to the diner. Being “politically correct” may come at a high cost...the old adage of it’s free, therefore it must be good, is intended to be in lock step with current trendy ideas. Everyone loves a parade. If its free, what truly then is its value to your health and better living? Like Shakespeare...”that is the question”

The following information is offered for your better understanding of the source and content of life’s necessity...
